DRAFT

"ORGANIZATIONAL STRENGTHENING FOR THE ACHIEVEMENT OF HEALTH FOR ALL AND ALL"

Within the framework of the various actions related to research on the contribution of civil society organizations to the achievement of health for all developed by the MSP in 6 countries of the world, Colombia conducted eight case studies that involved a relationship with groups indigenous population, peasants, LGBTI, labor and urban-popular neighborhoods.

As part of the closing of the first phase of this project, a workshop was held with a group of people belonging to organizations that were part of the case studies.

Given the Colombian context of negotiation between the government and the insurgency to give a political solution to the long armed conflict in Colombia, and the establishment of the Havana Agreements, where it was agreed to promote a National Plan for Rural Health (PNSR), the participating group in the workshop, considered it pertinent to continue developing a second phase of the project, where it was found that the PNSR is an opportunity to promote the design of a health model for the Colombian rural sector, which will respond to the historical needs in the field of health of the peasant population.
